

Kiki Miao in the Times!

Style
In store

JANE TAYLOR-HAYHURST

THE LITTLE GEM

Shimmering, gold-plated, Moroccan-style charm necklace, £81, Kiko Mao (01733 367470).

THE STEAL

Agent Provocateur does instant summer cheer: Jodie bra, £70, and briefs, £40 (0870 6000229).

THE TROPHY

Ditzy-print shorts are the coolest way to wear florals. £32, Topshop (www.topshop.com).

THE DETAIL

Statement bracelets

The chunky bracelet is great to wear with a simple look to make it bang on trend. As it's sales time, you may bag one of Dries Van Noten's beautiful gold bracelets, above, at Browns (www.brownsfashion.com), or try Mawi (www.mawi.com) for stunning original styles at around £250. The high street is flooded with affordable alternatives – head for New Look for bauble bracelets from £6 (www.newlook.co.uk).

Pssst

The roll call of models who cut their teeth on Next campaigns includes most of fashion's biggest names of the past 10 years, from Yasmin Le Bon to Claudia Schiffer. Now Next is looking for a fresh face to launch its new Next Design competition with Management. Take a photo at www.nextonline.com. The assignment will be the new Next Design.

Marc Newson, furniture and product designer, has turned his hand to fashion in a collaboration with Next. The range, out this week, includes a nine-piece collection of menswear and womenswear. Each item is priced at £100 to £200. Head to Dover Street Market (www.doverstreetmarket.com).

THE LITTLE THINGS THAT COUNT: BEACH BAGS

Resort chic doesn't begin and end with your bikini, says Prue White

£27.50, Miss Sixty

£375, Anya Hindmarch

£22.50, Gap

£29.99, River Island

£75, Heidi Klum

BOOKETS: MISS SIXTY, 0870 789140; ANYA HINDMARCH, 020 7300 0961; GAP, 0800 477769; RIVER ISLAND, 020 8691 4769; HEIDI KLUM, 020 7243 5655